

KIN&CO PRESS PACK

ABOUT KIN&CO

Kin&Co is a female owned, LGBTQ+ run B-Corp that uses behaviour and culture change to boost performance, save costs and improve the world. With offices in London and Toronto, the team are known for creating tangible, measurable shifts in organisational culture, and financial results, by using applied behavioural science. Kin&Co has an approach which is playful, human and purpose led, and that's why clients describe them as being an injection of energy, far different from other consultancies. Founded in 2016, Kin&Co has worked with some of the most senior individuals and largest organisations in the world, and is breaking the mould with an all-female leadership team, and broad range of diversity represented throughout the core team and wider associate network.
